Junior Achievement in Your Community

For 50+ years in Central Illinois, Junior Achievement has been the successful bridge between education and business. JA brings business and economic education programs to students in kindergarten through grade 12. The dynamic interaction between community business volunteers and students promotes active learning and brings theory to life.

Junior Achievement's Online Auction aims to provide training and materials for 600 young lives in Central Illinois.

The Online Auction Philosophy

An online auction enables us to provide item donors like you with a valuable platform for visibility within our community. Unlike other fundraisers, where a contributor or sponsor logo is displayed only during a one-time, four-hour event, an online auction allows for weeks of exposure by displaying contributors' logos and links next to every item they contribute in our online catalog. Items that are particularly exciting or generate a lot of bidding may also be featured along with your logo on our homepage or in the JA Gems e-newsletter.

Why You Should Be Involved

In today's world, we know that your business receives several solicitations for in-kind auction items or services every year. So why should you choose to support Junior Achievement with an in-kind contribution? It's simple.

1. All items or services to Junior Achievement are tax-deductible.
2. It's a great way for you to achieve widespread visibility by tapping into an engaged, active community. Promote your own products and services through a link to your website next to every item you contribute.
3. Leadership recognition is attained through your willingness to participate in an innovative kind of auction that reaches beyond a physical event.

Remember: The Online Auction is an outstanding marketing tool. The growing "JA Family" will pass along e-mail messages to their own friends and family—so there's no telling how many people will be reached!
